Background

A Proposed Vision for Thatcham Community Hub

In 2023 West Berkshire Council commissioned the Thatcham Town Centre Strategy. This strategy set out to guide future growth and change in the town centre, identifying needs as well as potential projects.

One of the longstanding needs identified was for an improved Community Hub to provide for community events, the arts, health, sport and recreation. Local people indicated they wanted this to be consolidated into one hub with access to the town centre rather than in a number of buildings throughout the town.

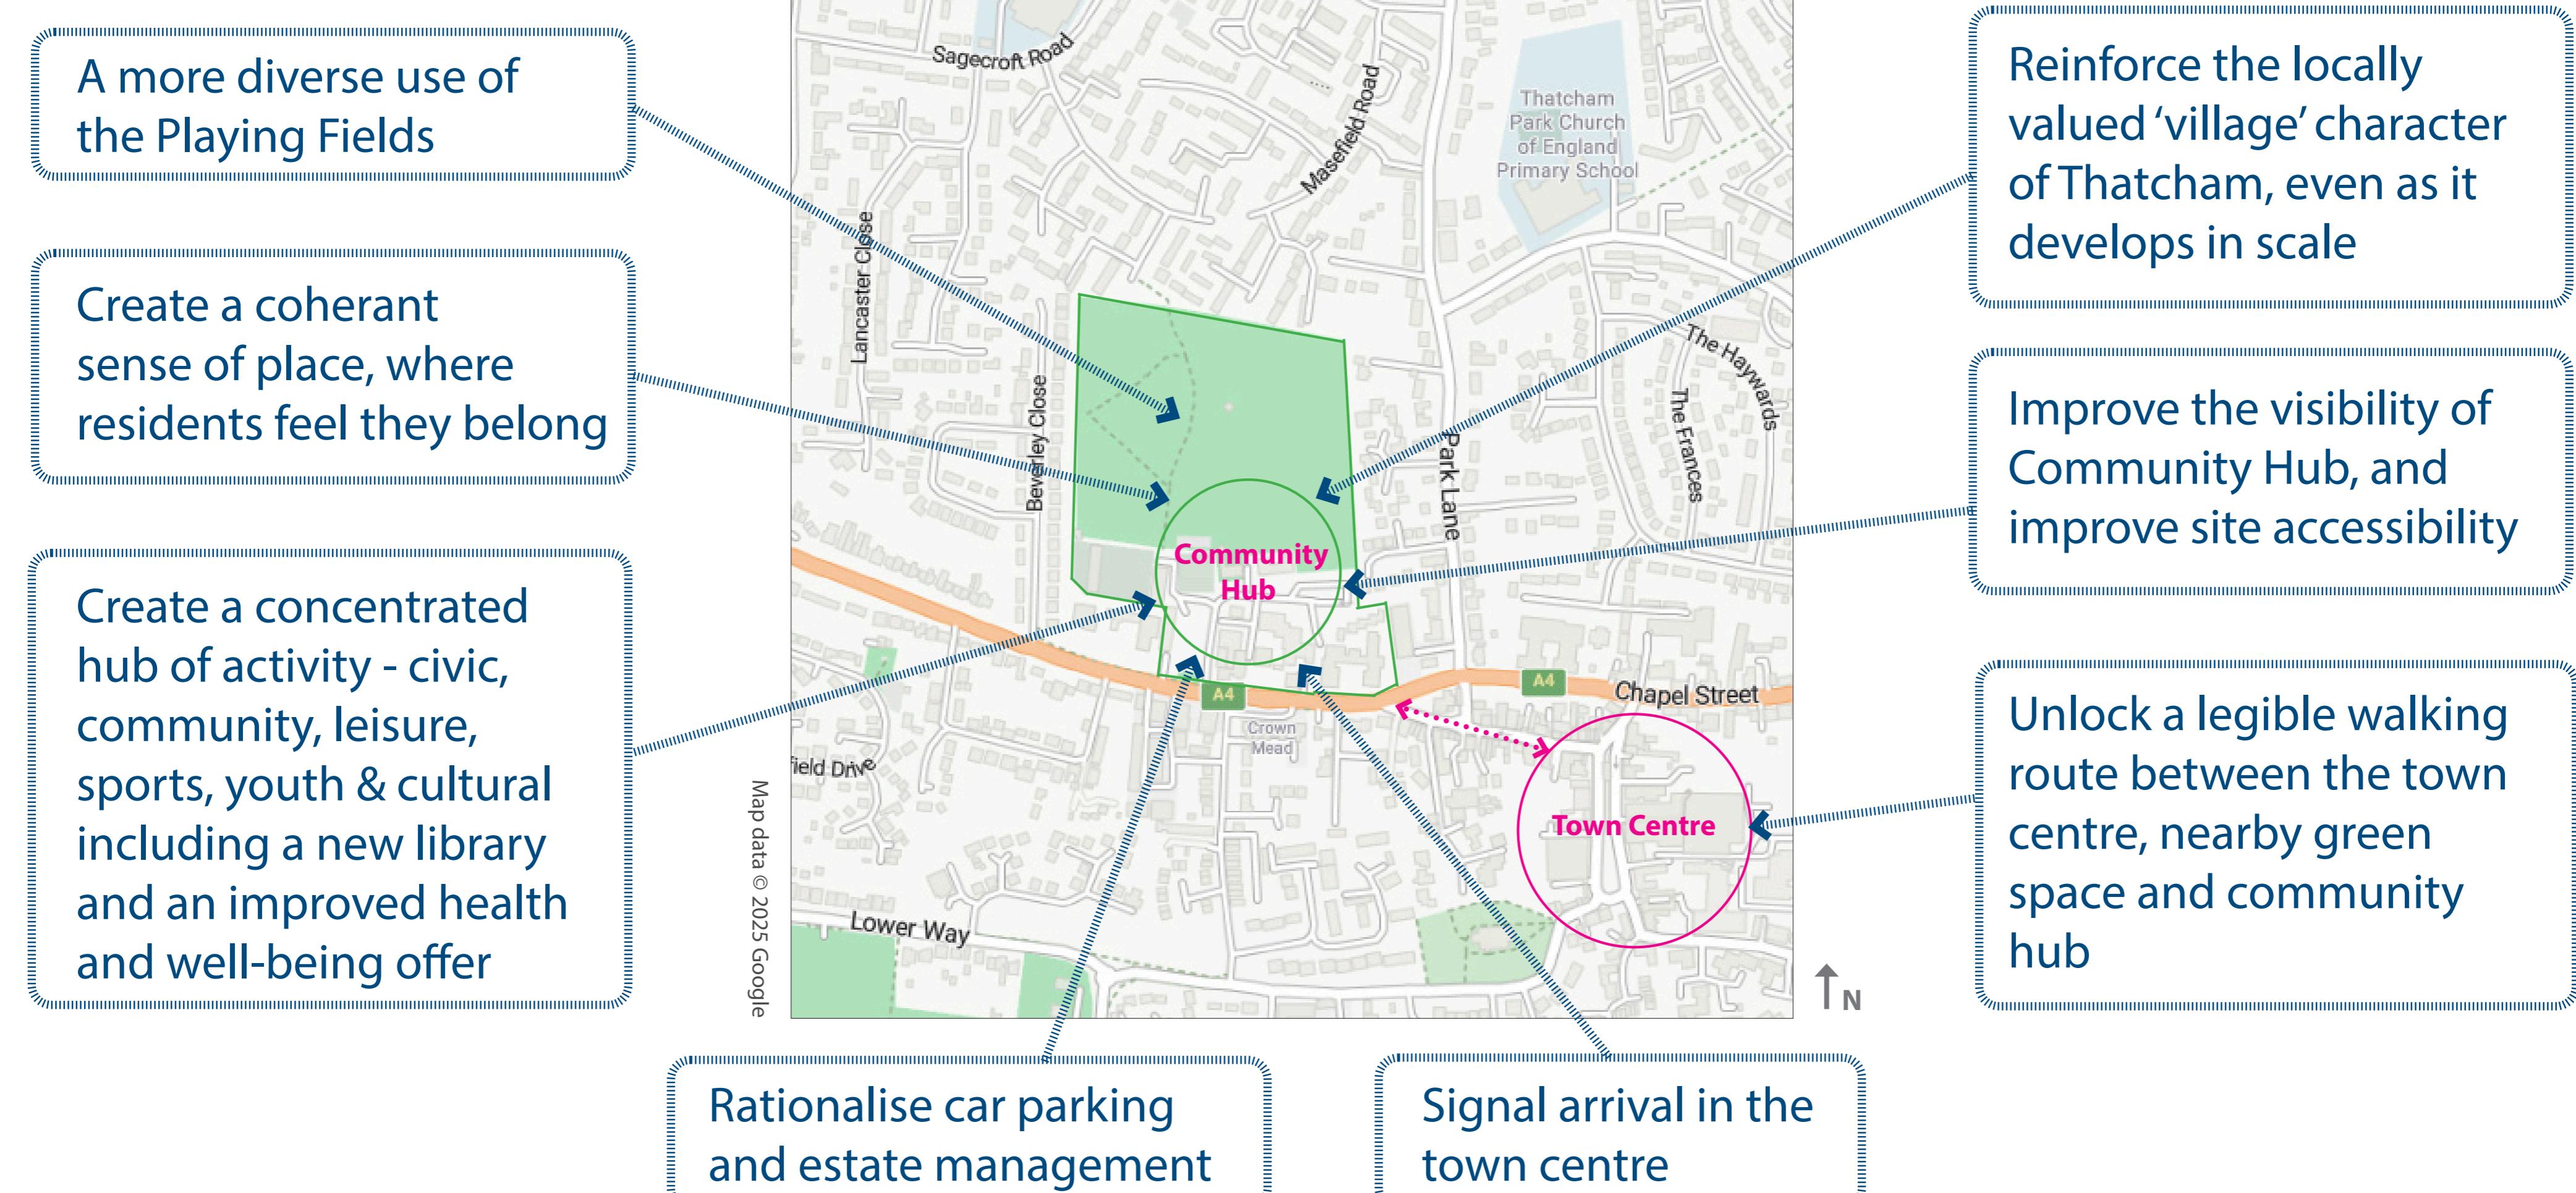

The strategy recognised Brownsfield Road and Memorial Field as an important place for cultural, sports and recreation facilities to be improved.

Over the last 12 months West Berkshire Council and partners have worked to identify what a new Community Hub at this site could look like, and now we need input from local people to improve these plans, which are at a very early stage.

Strategy 3

Local people and organisations have identified the need for:

Better, more diverse, flexible and fit-for-purpose spaces for the community to use.

Meeting current and future demand for cricket, football and tennis as well as new sports opportunities.

Safe and welcoming spaces with better public realm and lighting, that encourages more people to use the sites.

Better co-ordinated management across the site, supporting existing tenants, users and new facilities.

Strengthening the town cultural offer through providing space for events, exhibitions and performance.

A new modern building to service outdoors sports and with indoor facilities.

More activities and spaces for all ages and sections of the community, but especially young people.

Better quality open spaces with better pedestrian and cycle access from residential areas.

Improving access links to and from the town centre.

Meeting the growing need for improved civic facilities and community spaces including a new library.

Development Principles

- A Community Hub that is part of Thatcham Town Centre, and which provides vital community, sports and cultural infrastructure for all of Thatcham's growing population, now and into the future.
- A greater range of sports, available to a wider range of people, on more days of the year.
- A better laid out, more accessible and coherent site – with individual projects and developments being delivered over time to a masterplan vision for the site, linked to Thatcham Town Centre.

Three Core Priorities

GREEN SPACE

Higher quality, more varied and accessible green space and sports facilities, served by a café and toilets.

SPORTS

An integrated Sports Pavilion – serving organised sports and providing social activity and community use.

CULTURE

A new Cultural Building with a library, workspaces, event and performance spaces, town council offices, community rooms, and a café.

Parkland 5

Sports

An opportunity to both improve existing uses and introduce new provision.

Football

Tennis

Cricket

Padel

Bowling

Outdoor Exercise

Table Tennis

Pump Track

All wheels pump track located within currently underused flood basin: with space for different levels of skill. Use of flood basins for play and amenity is common.

Young People

Multi-Use Games Area – a welcoming, open play space for all ages, featuring sheltered areas, seating, ball games, climbing equipment and other activities designed to encourage active, social play.

Play space provided across the site for all ages.

Natural Play

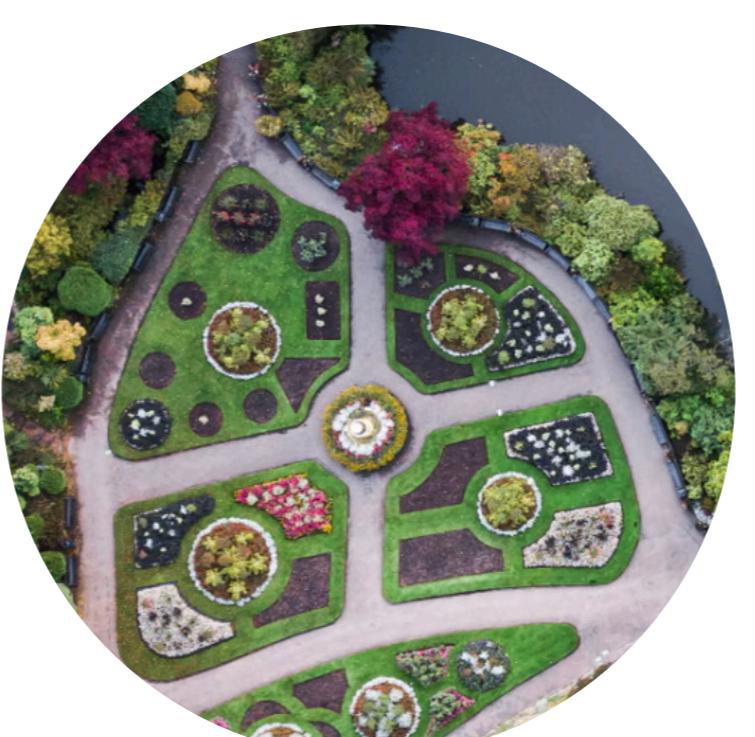

Play for all ages

Parkland for all

Landscape features - including an avenue framing the existing clock tower, gardens, welcoming signage and gates visible from Bath Road

Gardens extending the existing Jubilee Sensory Garden

Places to sit and enjoy nature

Funding & Delivery

Given the scale of the proposals the project will likely be delivered in phases over a number of years. This approach could allow the project to progress in a challenging financial environment and will allow for service continuity during development. Progress is also subject to agreed governance and securing the required funding.

There are a range of funding sources which will be explored including government bodies, trusts and foundations, and local sources including development contributions.

A governance model will be designed to maximise funding opportunities and financial efficiencies and ensure clear and consistent day-to-day management and maintenance arrangements in future.

Next Steps

- Following input from local people, the plans will be improved and updated.
- Further work will be undertaken to assess potential costs and funding sources.
- An implementation plan, including a funding strategy and options for governance will be developed later in 2026.
